Ready for BioData.pt Management? INTENSIVE

Ready for BioData Management? Intensive is a two-day hands-on training course that guides participants across the data lifecycle, highlighting the key challenges and questions to address at each stage, and showcasing tools and resources that researchers can use to aid them. The course features theoretical sessions intertwined with practical sessions consisting of exercises in small groups, that allow participants to both get acquainted with the tools and get involved in key RDM challenges.
