Jennifer L. Fleming & Carol A. Mullen

Strategies for Supporting Students With Disabilities by Teachers Committed to Equity

Background

1 in 5
SWD in the US were educated in public schools prior to PL 94-142/Education for All Children Act*

Study's Importance

With the passage of the Public Law 94-142, Education for All Children Act, AHCA or EHA, mandated that all students with disabilities receive "a free and appropriate education in the least restrictive environment." **/

Striving for Equity

Contributing Factors to Less Inclusivity

1. Low Expectations for SWD
2. Lack of Mentors
3. Limited Collaboration
4. Mediocre Administrative Support*

for Literature Review

Striving for Innovation

Striving for Excellence

Research Questions

1. What perceptions regarding communication do collaborative co-teaching partners have?
2. What effective best practices and strategies are implemented in collaborative co-taught 9-12 public school classrooms?
3. How much training, professional development, and preparation currently exist for collaborative co-teaching teams in 9-12 public school classrooms?

Moving Forward

This research study focuses on collaborative teachers' experiences in a rural public school division in Southwest Virginia. It addresses a gap in the literature by identifying what contributes to the success of co-teaching collaborative teams.

Background | Contributing Factos to Less Inclusivity | Research Questions

Sources

• Dudley-Marling, C., & Burns, M. B. (2014). Two Perspectives on inclusion in the United States. Global Education Review, 1(1), 14-31.

 Osgood, R. L. (2005). The history of inclusion in the United States. Washington, DC: Gallaudet University Press.

 National Education Association of the United States., & United States. (1978). P.L. 94-142: Related federal legislation for handicapped children and implications for coordination. Washington: The Association.

* Klimaitis, C. C., & Mullen, C. A. (2020). Access and Barriers to Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) Education for K-12 students with disabilities and demales. In C. A. Mullen (Ed.), Handbook of Social Justice Interventions in Education (pp. 1-24). Springer

Jennifer L. Fleming: jenniferlf@vt.edu
Carol A. Mullen: camullen@vt.edu
VIRGINIA TECH